

GARBER

Is Again Indicted.

No Loophole For His Escape.

Prosecution Anxious to Avoid Technicalities.

Grand Jury Surprised Garber's Friends.

Accused Will Enter Voluntary Appearance Monday.

Indictment Contains Practically Same Counts as Before.

The announcement that Mr. H. C. Garber was re-indicted by the Grand Jury Thursday, created a genuine surprise in Akron today.

The indictment contains two counts. It is substantially the same as the original indictment.

It charges Garber with promising a bribe of $200 to City Commissioner Daniel McGarry to influence action on a 25-year franchise wanted by the Central Union Telephone company.

This was the same franchise which, shortly after Garber's indictment, was railroaded through the City Council—a circumstance that resulted in a series of indignation meetings being held and the consequent appointment of a Citizens' Committee of Fifty to protect the interests of the city and the telephone users.

Plans Quickly Executed.
No one other than Prosecutor Wannamaker, Mayor Young and officials directly concerned in the prosecution were permitted to know anything about the re-indictment.

Thursday afternoon Attorney H. E. Andrews was summoned before the grand jury and upon his testimony, later in the afternoon, the indictment was returned. No other witnesses were called.

Garber's attorneys had claimed that the original indictment was defective.

Grand Jury's Roast

Make Changes In the Name of Humanity.

Twenty-Two Indictments Were Returned.

Arthur Powell Held For Second Degree Murder.

Dr. W. H. Smith Charged With Abortion—The Cases.

The grand jury submitted its report to Judge Kohler in Common Pleas court at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

The occasion was marked by the caustic roast given Summit county's tumble down old jail by the jury and judge.

After the written report was handed to the court, he asked if there was anything further that the jury desired to call to his attention. Thereupon J. S. Taggart arose and speaking for his associates read:

"We visited the dilapidated jail today. We desire to say that it is an unfit habitation for man. As an act of humanity a bath tub should be placed in the structure at once. We are desirous that you use your influence in that direction. We also recommend a wooden railing on one side of the stairway leading from the men's department to the upper floor. Common decency demands that the county make the changes we recommend and for that purpose the jury has decided to appoint a committee of five to visit the Commissioners with you and urge that action, to obtain a bath tub at once, be taken. We found that the prisoners were given excellent treatment by Sheriff Kelly."

The court took occasion to say: "There are numerous prisoners held on charges pending an investigation, that are acquitted on the final trial of the case. That innocent men are compelled to remain in the jail is absolutely indecent. I am glad to have you condemn it. If you had returned an indictment against the county for maintaining a nuisance, I believe your action would have been approved."

"If any attorney had presented charges the jury would have found a bill all right," said the foreman.

The jury retired and named H. Jantbe, J. S. Taggart, R. F. Palmer, G. E. Kerstetter and Elias Rathrock as a committee to visit the Commissioners and Judge Kohler one week from next Monday.

The Report.
The jury has been in session for nine days, during which it investigated 28 cases and examined 122 witnesses. Twenty-two indictments were returned and six cases ignored. In addition to the verbal report the jury recommended new heating apparatus and a gas jet.

Indictments were returned as follows:

The Powell Murder Case.
Arthur Powell, murder in the second degree. Powell shot and killed his brother, David, during a fracas at the home of the family.

Dr. Smith Indicted.
Dr. William H. Smith, abortion and attempting to procure an abortion. This sensational case is the result of the death of Laura Richards at his residence. He is charged with having attempted to perform an abortion, which resulted in her death on Feb. 3. She died Aug. 28, 1898. There are two counts in the indictment.

Another indictment is for performing an abortion on Jennie Taylor. There are two counts in this indictment.

Martin Held.

S. A. Martin, embezzlement. There are four indictments against him,

A Stow Township Witness Became Angry.

Breaking of Home Ties by Perry Woods.

Youthful Couple Sought a Marriage License.

Mrs. Emma Lacy Sues For a Divorce—COURTS.

The attorneys for the plaintiffs in Woods will case succeeded in arousing the ire of one witness for the defense Friday morning.

Charles Kidney, who resides near Stow Corners, was put on the stand. He had known Mr. Woods and testified that he believed him of sound mind.

Lawyer Kerruish, for the defense, asked him if he had not been indicted for the alleged unlawful sale of intoxicants. He admitted that he had.

"You were the proprietor of a hotel, is that correct?"
The witness said he was.

"Was that an assignment house?"
This was too much for the witnesses and he made an angry reply in which he threatened to get even with the attorney. A few more questions, asked for the purpose of reflecting on his character were interposed after which he was excused. He said he had been at the Woods house, painting the same, when Perry Wood was asked by his father to hitch up the horse. The son refused to do so, saying:

"If you want the horse hitch it up yourself. I won't hitch up the damn horse."

His father had told him he would do as he was asked or else leave home. The boy went away that day. It was also developed that a Mrs. Greenwald, of Kansas, the daughter of the sister, was cut off without a cent.

Did Not Get It.
Azatus W. Frase, a 19-year old boy, applied for a marriage license Friday morning. He had his father's consent, but the girl, Alice C. Carl, was only 17 years of age, and the Court refused to issue the coveted permit.

Damage Case Awarded.
The special jury awarded the Dorothy Mathews estate $100 because of the Johnson st. improvement.

Divorce Case.
Emma Lacy has filed a petition asking for a divorce from F. M. Lacy. She charges him with gross neglect and habitual intoxication. Her maiden name, Emma Flittner, she asks restored.
